

Project: FindMyEvents.com

Developer: Siddharth Basu

- Project details:

FindMyEvents is aiming to digitise a product which is an online system capable of performing operations such as managing events for example adding, deleting, updating, retrieving, sorting on various conditions etc. The admin of the site can also define and redefine the events in the system. The admin requires a login username and password for performing all these activities. The admin can logout as well.

**Currently the system performs admin specific functionalities (as mentioned in the problem statement). Only the home page is visible for a non admin. To access the events you must click events on the top navbar.

**All the functionalities have the prerequisite that an admin MUST first log in ("/login").

- Github Link:

<https://github.com/siddharth-basu98/EventFinder.com>

- Admin username and password (to be entered on the login page)

  "username": "admin"
  "password": "admin"

- Initial Data Entered via an "localhost:4000/init" API Endpoint triggered after clicking the Load Initial data on the navbar of the app.

How to run the app

Step 1:

If using HTTPS, run the following command on the terminal to clone the Event Finder App made with React and Express, <https://github.com/siddharth-basu98/EventFinder.com.git>, otherwise if using SSH, <git@github.com:siddharth-basu98/EventFinder.com.git>

Step 2: (Activating Express APIs and MondoDB database)

Using any IDE of choice, open the cloned project in the workspace. MongoDB needs to be installed for the user and it is from where the backend is connected and the APIs manipulate. After doing that run “cd BackEnd_Express_Mongo_server” and run “npm start”. This starts the backend server which starts listening to port 4000 where the react app sends its request to.

A terminal window with tabs for TERMINAL, PROBLEMS, OUTPUT, and DEBUG CONSOLE. The active tab is TERMINAL. The terminal shows the user navigating to the 'BackEnd_Express_Mongo_server' directory and running 'npm start'. The output shows 'nodemon' starting the server on port 4000, with several deprecation warnings from Node.js and a successful connection to the database.

siddharth@siddharths-MacBook-Air ~/Desktop/EventFinder (master) $ cd BackEnd_Express_Mongo_server siddharth@siddharths-MacBook-Air ~/Desktop/EventFinder/BackEnd_Express_Mongo_server (master) $ npm start > first-node-app@1.0.0 start /Users/siddharth/Desktop/EventFinder/BackEnd_Express_Mongo_server

> nodemon server.js

Step 3: (Starting the React Server)

On the root directory of the application, just run the command “npm start”, it automatically starts the react development server on port 3000 which is default.

A terminal window with tabs for TERMINAL, PROBLEMS, OUTPUT, and DEBUG CONSOLE. The active tab is TERMINAL. The terminal shows the user running 'npm start' from the root directory of the application. The output shows 'login-app-reactjs@0.1.0 start' command and 'react-scripts start' being executed.

siddharth@siddharths-MacBook-Air ~/Desktop/EventFinder (master) $ npm start > login-app-reactjs@0.1.0 start /Users/siddharth/Desktop/EventFinder > set port=5000 && react-scripts start

TERMINAL PROBLEMS OUTPUT DEBUG CONSOLE 2: node

Step 4: (Load initial data)

The home page is what opens upon starting the react project. On the home page navigation bar, there is an option to “Load initial data (For prototype demo purposes)”

Step 5:

The app majorly as required were to perform admin related tasks, so to access the functionalities of the application it sends you to a login page when you click to access the login page, the user saved as of now is “admin” and “admin” with the name “siddharth”. SO on the login page enter the following username and password,

  "username": "admin"
  "password": "admin"
}

Some key concepts used in the Application

- React states and classful components
- React Hooks and functional components
- Express JS for API building (backend development)
- NodeJS
- JWT authentication for Login
- React component lifecycle methods
- Bootstrap and CSS for styling
- ES6 JavaScript features
- Google Maps API for showing event location map

Features

1) Home Page

The header has a bootstrap jumbotron showing the name of the application and a sign in button which when clicked directly takes the user to the login page.

Below that there is an automatically sliding carousel showing the different types of events each again having a “sign in now” button taking the user to the sign in page.

2) Login page

This is the default login page styled using Bootstrap grid asking the user to enter the username and password. If the user tries to click Events on the navigation bar, then also if the session token is not found by the express backend, it gets automatically redirected to this login page.

Deleting an event.

Once you click on the delete button in red either on the main page or on the event details page, the UI is updated and the event is effectively deleted from the database and won't be shown in the events page again.

Example, deleting the sample event and then it doesn't show in the UI anymore.

And then after clicking the delete option on “sample event”, the UI gets updated and is effectively deleted. The event list is re rendered with no sample event this time.

Get Event Details Page

sample event

Lorem Ipsum is simply dummy text of the printing and typesetting industry. Lorem Ipsum has been the industry's standard dummy text ever since the 1500s, when an unknown printer took a galley of type and scrambled it to make a type specimen book. It has survived not only five centuries, but also the leap into electronic typesetting, remaining essentially unchanged. It was popularised in the 1960s with the release of Letraset sheets containing Lorem Ipsum passages, and more recently with desktop publishing software like Aldus PageMaker including versions of Lorem Ipsum.

Searching events on the events page using a search bar

(API calls designed in Express but calling them for every dynamic entry input seemed to be a bad design practice for this basic app)

There are 4 search parameters, namely, Title, Domain, Location and Date you can search events for as shown in the image below

- Search by title (default)

Upon searching by title, just typing "ol" in the search bar, all events having "ol" in their title get displayed, no need to type the event name fully. The event list which gets displayed is completely dynamic and gets updated with every keystroke on the search bar.

The location dropdown is shown upon clicking search by location. You can easily select the location and only events for that particular location will get displayed to the user.

Example upon searching for location "Puducherry"

- Search by date

The date picker dropdown is shown upon clicking search by date. You can easily select the start date and only events for that particular date will get displayed to the user.

Example upon searching for the date of “21-10-2020”, only one event is displayed.

The screenshot shows a web application interface. At the top, there is a search bar with a magnifying glass icon and a dropdown menu labeled "Search by startDate. (Click dropdown to change)". ## Sorting functionalities on the events page:

There is a sort by button on the events page which helps in sorting the events with a parameter the user selects. Currently three functions are implemented namely,

- a) Sort by Price (low to high)
- b) Sort by Price (high to low)
- c) Sort by date (near to far)

- Sort by Price (low to high)

Upon checking the sort low to high from the dropdown the current events all get sorted by price.

Here as you see events are starting from 300 to 600 to 1900...and so on.
